Chiropractic Adjunctive Therapies Part Two

Not every DC uses Adjunctive Therapies, but if you do, hear Dr. Lewkovich. We continue from last issue to offer you easy explanations for your insurance auditors and patients of what these Therapies actually do. Refer back to our August 22, issue which you can find in www.ShawnSteel.com under doctor services.

6. Massage 97124

Standard meaning of therapeutic massage reduces spasms.

7. Mechanical Traction 97012

Intermittent mechanical traction opens up joint spaces. Reduced nerve pressure.

8. Myofascial Release 97250

Always controversial and a Red Flag, Manual therapy targets trigger points, highly "site specific" often uncomfortable to have administered

9. Neuromuscular Re-education 97122

Retraining of movement, balance, coordination and posture.

10. Therapeutic Exercise 97110

In-office specialized strengthening or stretching procedures, use of professional devices.

11. Ultrasound 97035

Very high frequency sound wave to disperse swelling.

End of the 1922 Act?

Hundreds of DC's were arrested leading up to the passage of the Act in 1922. The arrest of a female DC generated huge publicity and helped drive California voters to support the 1922 Initiative. The Chiropractic Act of 1922 set the world wide standard protecting chiropractors scope of practice. The Act specifically barred future legislators from interfering with Chiropractic rights.

Times have changed. Sen. Mark Ridley-Thomas has jammed legislation entitled SB 801 that would abolish the Act. SB 801 would turn over control of DC's scope to ignorant legislators. And those special interests with far greater influence: insurance and medicine would have easy access to alter the Chiropractic Scope.

That's why every Chiropractic leader and organization unanimously are petitioning Arnold Schwarzenegger to VETO the anti chiropractic bill.
